Hot Topics in Law and International Development

Project Title	Hot Topics in Law and International Development
Project Summary	Assisting USAID attorneys carry out legal research and writing projects.
Country	United States

Project Description

There are many legal research projects that USAID attorneys are constantly seeking to support the fundamental legal principles that support the agency. Typical legal research areas are international law, government contracting law, environmental law, government ethics, legislative history relating to the Foreign Assistance Act, appropriations law, administrative law.

Required Skills or Interests

Skill(s)
Analytical writing
Research
Writing

Additional Information

None

Language Requirements

None